

Dr. Linn Leppert

AFFILIATION:
MESA+ Institute for Nanotechnology, University of Twente

LINK TO WEBPAGE: <http://www.leppertlab.com>

Biographical note

Dr. Linn Leppert is Assistant Professor in Computational Chemical Physics at the University of Twente (Netherlands). Her research group develops and uses first-principles numerical modelling techniques to understand and predict light-converting processes in complex biological, organic-inorganic and, fully inorganic systems – from perovskite solar absorbers to photosynthesis. Linn is also board member of the Young Academy of Europe (YAE) and organizes the taskforce Equality, Diversity and Inclusion for the YAE.